

Dear Chairman Powell and Commissioners,

I am a student of Media Studies at the University of San Francisco and, more importantly, I am a media consumer. The elimination of regulation over the control of newspaper and TV stations is a threat to the public interest. I watch the progression of media ownership with terror, and I fear the potential control that will be given to conglomerates if this proposition passes. It is not possible for one large corporation to assess the wants and needs of their consumers. I am the public and the "public's" interest will not be met by a media conglomerate.

I hope to see the media revert to its initial purpose of serving the public need opposed to continuing the progression of serving the profit•s needs. Please stop this fast-growing corruption by holding on to the little regulation that is left.

Respectfully,

Jodi Michelle Wynn
